To whom it may concern

Education Wellington International is the consortium of government-accredited universities, polytechnics, private training institutions and schools in the Wellington region of New Zealand that are committed to high quality education for students at all levels of study. We work closely with Positively Wellington Business, the economic development agency for the region, and are supported by the five City Councils in the region.

In our mission to promote the special advantages of New Zealand's capital city region as a desirable study destination, we are delighted to have had the opportunity to work with Rosalind Young, Director of AC International Ltd.

Rosalind's experience, market knowledge and professionalism have been of great assistance to Education Wellington International and to its university, polytechnic and high school members. She has worked effectively on our behalf in the Malaysian market in particular, building relationships with and supporting agents, and representing us at education fairs. We have been impressed with her thoroughly professional, friendly and competent approach, and the manner in which she has followed up off-shore work on return to Wellington.

We have also appreciated and benefited from Rosalind's understanding and experience of the wider North and South East Asian market.

It is a pleasure to do business with AC International Ltd and we look forward to our ongoing relationship with Rosalind and her organisation in 2005 and beyond.
